THE SPIRIT

A distinguished past, a stimulating present and a challenging future comprise the Spirit of Wake Forest College. The revered traditions of the past blend with the unfolding vista of the future to provide an exciting atmosphere in which to live, study, and grow. As a new student, you are entering Wake Forest at one of the most significant periods in her history. The demands with which you will be confronted will be many, but the rewards will more than compensate.

College Life and Traditions

Close fellowship and honored traditions are the nucleus of Wake Forest life. In a growing academic and social community, these are the elements which blend us into a whole, living and acting and growing together. There is a treasured relationship between the students and the professors, as well as an enviable fellowship among all. The traditions of the old campus, such as walking under the magnolias, have taken on new life on the new campus. Yet the basic tradition of academic excellence has remained constant since 1834.

Incoming freshmen and transfer students are introduced to campus life by a thorough Orientation Program. They are made familiar with Wake Forest institutions, from the lilting strains of the Alma Mater to the geography of the city of Winston-Salem, their home for the next four years. With the help of identification badges, the newcomers become acquainted with their classmates before the upperclassmen return and merge with the freshmen for the two-day ordeal of registration.

Classes begin, with their seemingly endless parade of quizzes, papers, preceptorials, pop tests, and outside reading assignments. With them come athletics, and on Saturday afternoon students fill Bowman Gray Stadium to urge the Deacon football team to victory. Later the students move inside to Memorial Coliseum and cheer their outstanding basketball team in its struggle for another conference championship. After each win, they return to campus to the peal of the victory bell. Baseball season follows and the fans enjoy the afternoon sun and the Deacon victories at Ernie Shore Field. Sharing the spring spotlight are tennis, golf, and track.

Interwoven with academics and athletics are the social activities. Wake Forest is proud of the tradition of friendliness—the custom of greeting everyone you pass on campus dates back to the days when Wake Forest was a small liberal arts college at Wake Forest, N. C. Expansive lawns and magnolia trees provide the perfect setting for fun and relaxation. The beauty of the campus inspires a sense of pride in our students as well as the desire to enjoy the activities Wake Forest has to offer. Golden mums and football games in the fall, snowball fights and sleigh rides in the winter, and long walks in beautiful Reynolda Gardens and sunning in the spring are but a few of those activities. There are parties at the Barn in Reynolda Gardens, weekly movies in DeTamble Auditorium, concerts and lectures, and major events like Homecoming weekend, when the campus overflows with alumni, decorations, parade preparations, parties, and a dance. The ten social fraternities sponsor parties, picnics and activities such as Greek Week throughout the year. The Independents and girls' societies keep busy also.

The excitement and expectations of Christmas make it an especially joyous season at Wake Forest. Students fill the downtown stores, buying and wrapping and mailing gifts. The halls of dormitories are brightened by decorations on every door as the spirit of Christmas takes priority over quizzes. Highlighting the merrymaking are the Campus Carol Service, a party for underprivileged children, and the annual presentation of Handel's inspiring "Messiah."

Under the blazing Maple trees in the glory of their autumn colors, Reynolda Road serves as a main thoroughfare to and from the campus.

Then come exams, and lights burn in dorms and classrooms as students engage in last-minute studying and cramming. After a four-day breathing spell, registration begins again, soon followed by the first signs of spring—magnolia blossoms, picnics, the Magnolia Ball, and filled tennis courts. With the restlessness of spring comes the thrill of campus politics. Election talk and campaign posters cover the campus as students elect their leaders.

Throughout the year, each weekly chapter of Wake Forest is captured and preserved in OLD GOLD AND BLACK, the College's traditionally All-American student newspaper. Radio station WFDD broadcasts music, news and information every weekday for the student's relaxation. The College yearbook, THE HOWLER, appears in May and brings back memories of the year. Student talent is captured in The Student.

And as the years pass, the people, the places, the ideas, and traditions remain—the components of Wake Forest life.

History and Development

The founding of Wake Forest Institute on February 3, 1834, marked the first concrete step taken by the Baptist Convention of North Carolina to establish denominational schools of higher learning. Dr. Samuel Wait, first principal of the institute, envisioned a two-fold purpose for Wake Forest—to provide collegiate instruction in the arts and sciences, and to furnish training under Christian influences and turn out well educated ministers.

In December, 1838, Wake Forest ended its role as a manual labor school and was rechartered as Wake Forest College. In June, 1939, the College granted Bachelor of Arts degrees to the four men who constituted her first graduating class.

Wake Forest was exclusively a college of liberal arts until June, 1894, when the Law School was established. The School of Medicine was formed in May, 1902, was moved to Winston-Salem in 1941, and is now known as Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest College.

For over a century, the College maintained her very prominent position in the area around the town of Wake Forest. But as the College continued to grow and expand its horizons, especially striving to become a university, it became clear that Wake Forest needed to mix new life with her valuable ancient heritage. Accordingly, in 1946, the Trustees of the College and the Baptist State Convention accepted an offer made by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation of Winston-Salem to give the College $350,000 annually (increased to $500,000 in 1955) in perpetuity on condition that it move to Winston-Salem.

The Charles H. Babcock family donated a part of the beautiful Reynolda estate outside Winston-Salem for the new campus, and groundbreaking ceremonies were held on October 15, 1951, with President Truman delivering the principal address.

The actual move to the new campus was completed in June 1956 and summer school classes were held at the school's new $20 million plant. The old campus and the buildings at Wake Forest were sold to the Southern Baptist Convention for the use of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Wake Forest's graduate program for the M.A. degree, which had been discontinued in 1949, was re-established in 1960, and today the College grants the M.A. degree in seven different fields of learning.

In the spring of 1963, the Trustees presented to the convention a proposal for the final steps to make Wake Forest a university. The proposal called for the strengthening of the undergraduate school and the expansion of the graduate school to the point at which Wake Forest would be able to provide quality education to the Ph.D. degree in the subjects offered, without substantially increasing her enrollment.

The proposal involved a change in the make-up of the College's Board of Trustees, which governs Wake Forest as an agency of the Baptist State Convention. Nine trustees are now nominated and elected to four-year terms each year by the Convention, so that a total of 36 is maintained. Under the present arrangement, the Trustees must be residents of North Carolina and members of churches cooperating with the Convention. The change would have provided a broader base for the Board by allowing some out-of-state and non-Baptist Trustees. All Trustees would have continued to be elected by the Convention. The proposal was presented to the Convention in November, 1963. Although it did not receive the necessary two-thirds majority, it did receive a 60 per cent majority endorsement.

In 1964, a similar proposal, which would have applied equally to the other six Baptist colleges, was sponsored and presented by the Council on Christian Education of the Baptist State Convention. Though this proposal was more widely based and had the support of almost the entire elected leadership of the Convention, it likewise failed to be passed when the Convention met in November. Though students, faculty, and many friends of the College were disappointed, they all shared a common refusal to give up and a determination to see Wake Forest attain her highest possibilities as Wake Forest University.

Through her history the principles of Christianity and the purposes of Wake Forest have remained inseparable. Wake Forest graduates have contributed significantly to Christian culture and to its development in North Carolina, the nation, and the world.

Perhaps the greatest single factor in the College's development has been the consistently high caliber of its faculty and administration. Wake Forest has been able to attract men who have been willing to devote a major portion of their lives to the service of the school.

The man behind Wake Forest's present prominence and the exciting future opening up for her is her president, Dr. Harold W. Tribble. It was he who envisioned a university when he began his tenure as president; it was he who engineered the move of the College to her new campus at Winston-Salem; and it was he who planned and presented the proposals which will mold Wake Forest into a university. Dr. Tribble represents the energy and far-sightedness which have characterized the College since her founding.

Another outstanding figure in the College's recent history was Dr. Thurman D. Kitchin. A member of a prominent North Carolina family, he served Wake Forest for 33 years, 13 as a teacher and Dean of the Medical School and 20 as president. During his administration the College experienced the greatest growth and development in its history to that time.

Dr. William Louis Poteat, one of Dr. Kitchin's predecessors, served the College 55 years as teacher and president, and under his leadership Wake Forest emerged as one of the South's leading educational institutions. He established at Wake Forest the first biology and science department in this section of the nation.

The Honor System

Students at Wake Forest College are given the privilege and responsibility of assuming the personal integrity and honor of each student enrolled. Some years ago the College asked the students if they wished to be placed upon their honor as ladies and gentlemen, and the answer was in the affirmative. Thus was born the Student Honor System, which has become a vital and traditional part of the life of the College.

To assure the effectiveness and clarity of the "honor" idea, students themselves drew up an honor and conduct code, outlining the standards to which all students are expected to conform. While it is the responsibility of each individual to uphold and enforce the System, sixteen representatives are elected by the student body each year and specifically charged with the duty of enforcing the chosen standards of honor and conduct. More than a trial group, these representatives who comprise the Student Honor Council seek to maintain the spirit of the system. Because of this desire, all penalties are left to the discretion of the Council in recognition that each case must be considered on its own merits, not bound by tradition or precedent. In addition, the Council seeks not only to punish violators of the System but also by its decisions to help the student involved to avoid making the same mistake again.

The decision to support and to adhere to the Honor System is made automatically with the decision to come to Wake Forest. The System is not a set of rules; it is a way of life. The social structure of any community depends first of all on the basic assumptions made by the individuals within that community. The "watch-dog" proctor system is based on the assumption that people are generally dishonest, that they must be watched at all times if they are to act with integrity. The Honor System, on the other hand, assumes that people can be trusted to act honorably in all their dealings. This assumption puts the responsibility for the action of the individual squarely upon his own shoulders. Each student is considered mature enough and honest enough to be trusted to act with integrity at all times. Thus, as Article VII of the Student Body Constitution states: "The Honor System is more nearly a spirit than a code. Reduced to its simplest terms, it means that a man or woman shall act honorably in all relations and phases of student life, that his word can be trusted implicitly, and that he will at all times conduct himself as becomes students of Wake Forest College whether at the College or away from the campus." The trust that this system implies results in greater freedom for students. Most professors administer examinations without the aid of proctors and do not remain in the room. Often students are permitted to leave an examination for a needed "breather" and then to return and complete the work with no questions asked. The greatest benefit of the System, however, is the knowledge that one is trusted until he proves himself unworthy of that trust.

Obviously, an Honor System can be effective only to the extent to which each student accepts the responsibilities which accompany increased freedom and trust. As a constant reminder of his moral obligations to do honest work on all examinations and other work specified as "Pledge Work" by the professor, each student is required to sign at the end of all written assignments the pledge: "I have neither given nor received any aid on this work." The Honor System applies not only to cheating on pledge work but also to plagiarism, stealing, the passing of worthless checks, and all other instances in which the honor and integrity of the individual are at stake. Each student is honor bound to conform strictly to the regulations set forth in Statute I of the Student Body Constitution, entitled Honor Violations. Generally accepted rules of conduct are outlined in Statute II of the Constitution, Conduct Violations, and concern such actions as hazing, gambling, conduct toward guests of the College, participation in campus riots, and other undesirable activities. While a person's honor may not be specifically at stake in these cases, he is certainly duty bound if not honor bound to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct at all times. It is the further responsibility of each student, as provided by Article VII, Section 2 of the Constitution, "... not only to obey and uphold the System himself, but upon seeing someone else violate the spirit of the System to confront the violator by asking him to report himself to the proper authorities so that he might clear himself or bear the responsibility of his actions . . . " The Honor System at Wake Forest thus seeks to place the responsibility of the reporting of violators in the hands of the violators themselves. But every student who witnesses a violation must not forget his own responsibility of pointing out to the violator the necessity of his reporting himself and the duty of taking whatever further action seems advisable. It means that you will live in a community in which honesty is respected, that if you are a person of integrity you will be given an opportunity to work in an atmosphere of freedom and trust.

The College Songs

DEAR OLD WAKE FOREST

(The Alma Mater)

Dear old Wake Forest!
Thine is a noble name;
Thine is a glorious fame,
Constant and true.
We give thee of our praise,
Adore thine ancient days,
Sing thee our humble lays,
Mother, so dear.

Dear old Wake Forest!
Mystic thy name to cheer;
Be thou our guardian near,
Fore'er and aye.
We bow before thy shrine,
Thy brow with bays entwine,
All honor now be thine,
Mother, today.

OH, HERE'S TO WAKE FOREST

(The Fight Song)

Oh, here's to Wake Forest, a glass of the finest
Red, ruddy Rhenish filled up to the brim!
Her sons they are many, unrivaled by any;
With hearts o'erflowing we will sing her hymn.

(Chorus)

Rah, Rah, Wake Forest, Rah!
Old Alma Mater's sons we are;
We'll herald her story and die for her glory,
Old Gold and Black is ever waving high.

As frosh we adore her; as sophs we explore her,
And carve our names upon her ancient walls;
As juniors patrol her; as seniors extol her,
And weep to leave fore'er her sacred halls.

Though fortune forsake us and fate o'ertake us,
We'll ne'er forget our dear old college days,
And o'er memory's treasure we'll drink without measure,
And sing fore'er our Alma Mater's praise.

THE SETTING

The physical beauty of the Wake Forest campus and the surrounding area, and the warm and friendly atmosphere of the people of Winston-Salem and North Carolina, make the student's transition to his new home an easy one. The College is situated on landscaped hills about three miles northwest of the center of the city, just off Reynolda Road.

The Campus

The campus embraces about 411 acres of land and 17 buildings. Its magnolia trees, expansive lawns and carefully-planned design make the campus one of the most beautiful in the South.

The buildings are of modified Georgian architecture, constructed of Old Virginia brick and trimmed in granite and limestone. In addition to the college buildings, there are a President's home, ten faculty apartment buildings, 56 student apartments and a trailer camp for married students.

THE BUILDINGS ARE :

WAIT CHAPEL, at the head of the campus plaza. The chapel, named for Dr. Samuel Wait, the college's first president, doubles as a center of campus religious activity and an auditorium. It is the home of the campus Baptist church. Attached to Wait Chapel on the northern end is WINGATE HALL, a four-story building housing the church's educational departments and the College's departments of religion and music. Also located in the building is PAUL PRICE DAVIS MEMORIAL CHAPEL.

REYNOLDA HALL, at the southern end of the Plaza, facing Wait Chapel, the administrative and student activities center. The wing on the west end of the building houses all administrative offices of the College and the wing on the east end accommodates student organizations and activities. Also in the building are the cafeteria, a soda shop, lounges, conference rooms, banquet rooms, classrooms, and the campus restaurant, the Magnolia Room.

THE Z. SMITH REYNOLDS LIBRARY building, presently divided between classrooms, offices, and library rooms. Four floors of rooms for reading, reference and other uses are available, and the library has a capacity for about one million books.

W. N. REYNOLDS GYMNASIUM, containing facilities for practically all sports and the ROTC department. Basketball courts, a swimming pool, courts for other indoor sports, and classrooms and offices for the physical education and athletic departments are in the building.

THE LAW BUILDING, reserved for the School of Law. It has classrooms, a moot court and assembly room, and the law library.

The New General Classroom Building

The new GENERAL CLASSROOM BUILDING. Located east of the library, it was opened last fall. It contains classrooms, seminar rooms, faculty offices and a lecture hall, and houses the departments of English, classical languages, German, Romance languages, political science, sociology, history, philosophy and education.

SALEM HALL, the older of the two science buildings on campus. It houses the Chemistry and Physics Departments. In this building are many laboratories, classrooms, offices, and a large lecture room.

WINSTON HALL, the newer science building. This structure accommodates the Biology and Psychology Departments. The building is completely air-conditioned, and also contains offices, as well as laboratories and classrooms.

Wake Forest men live in four quadrangles of dormitories bordering the plaza. Northeast of the plaza is POTEAT DORM. TAYLOR DORM is on the northwest, KITCHIN DORM is southeast and DAVIS DORM is southwest. Connecting Taylor and Poteat with Wait Chapel are two wings, EFIRD and HUFFMAN Halls.

BOSTWICK, JOHNSON, AND BABCOCK DORMITORIES for women are located on the south end of the campus.

Facing the plaza and housed in the men's dorms are a post office, a bank, a book store, men's and women's clothing stores, a barber shop and a photography studio. Wake Forest Laundry is housed in Taylor Dorm.

Winston-Salem Area

Winston-Salem is located in the cradle of Piedmont North Carolina, the fastest growing region in the eastern United States. In 1959 it was named an All America City, an honor which reflects the city's long-time record of progress. This year the city again holds this honor in recognition of its continued prosperity.

The origin of the city can be traced to the early 1750's when the Moravians followed the colonial road from Pennsylvania and established a community in Salem. The combined town of Winston and Salem is now the home of over 100,000 people who thrive in a varied and growing industrial complex. Since the college moved to Winston-Salem in 1956 there has been a healthy student-native relationship that is strengthened by the community relations committee and an increase of mutual appreciation. Members of the faculty, administration, and student body take an active interest in the governmental affairs of the city. In return the populace has responded and constantly aids the college in its development and cultural programs.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, the main industry of the city, employs over 9,000 persons and has recently opened the most modern cigarette factory in the world. Tours are available at all hours for visitors. The largest bank in the southeast, the largest regional airlines in the nation, and the largest producers of seamless hose all find their home in the city.

The Winston-Salem area abounds with recreational and cultural activities and opportunities for the student. In addition to a concert-lecture series sponsored by the college, students may attend programs of the Civic Music Association, the Little Theater, the Winston-Salem Symphony, and the Winston-Salem Singers' Guild.

For relaxation and light entertainment the city has two downtown theaters and several drive-in theaters. Miniature golf courses are also close by. The City Recreation Department operates 25 recreation centers and four parks with facilities for all types of indoor and outdoor activities. Many fine restaurants are located in and around Winston-Salem.

Student golfers may take advantage of two public courses, Hillcrest Golf Club and Reynolds Park, and the course at the Old Town Club, a private establishment located next to the campus. Other opportunities for recreation may be found in the area surrounding the city. "Tanglewood," the William and Kate B. Reynolds Memorial Park, offers swimming, horse-back riding, golf, games, fishing, and picnicking. The scenic Blue Ridge Parkway, only 47 miles from the campus, attracts many students during the fall and spring months. Near these beautiful ranges are located the Hanging Rock State Park, 30 miles north of the city, and Pilot Mountain Park, 25 miles northwest of Winston-Salem.

A special attraction in this town of tradition is Old Salem, being restored as one of the finest examples of colonial life in the United States. Salem Academy, founded in 1772, is the oldest preparatory school for girls in the South. Salem College is a distinguished four-year college for women. In keeping with the heritage the city holds to, services of the Moravian Church at Easter and at Christmas are attended by people from all over the nation.

Reynolda Gardens

Magnificence, beauty, and serenity are all reflected in the breathtaking Reynolda Gardens as it sleeps beneath the stately trees overlooking the calmness of the lake. Each spring thousands of people flock to admire the weeping Japanese cherry trees in bloom.

Throughout the year the winding paths and lakeside slopes of the Gardens are a favorite spot for study in the sun, leisurely strolls, and student marriages.

The Gardens became one of the College's treasured heritages in 1958 when they were presented to Wake Forest by the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation and Charles H. Babcock "to enhance educational facilities . . . and the cultural service which Wake Forest College is now rendering to the community and the state."

THE PEOPLE

With all her glorious traditions and physical beauty, it is in the final analysis the people of Wake Forest that make her what she is. And in these people, there are two factors which are always foremost—a deep love of Wake Forest and a personal concern for each and every individual student.

Wake Forest has always been careful to stress quality rather than quantity, and her people reflect this emphasis.

The Administration

The administrative personnel are perhaps the best example of the College's concern for the individual student. The administrators are always willing to sit down with a student and discuss his problems. The administrative policy of the College is a positive one—the attempt is to help the student wherever possible to get the most out of his stay at Wake Forest both in his academic training and in his development as a human being. The Alumni

The Wake Forest College Alumni Association is the organization through which former students maintain lifelong ties with the college. These ties are based on a relationship as natural and as mutual as the bond between parent and child. "Alumnus" means foster son, and "Alma Mater" means nourishing mother. The Alumni Association seeks to preserve and enhance the vitality of this concept and to employ it for the benefit of both alumni and the College.

Graduates and all former students who have received any academic credits from the College automatically become members of the Association. In addition, other persons interested in the College and desiring affiliation with the Association may be elected to honorary membership. Currently there are approximately 16,500 members who are engaged in all fields of human endeavor. New members are being added at the rate of approximately 900 a year.

The purposes of the Association, as stated in the Constitution, are "to nourish friendly relations among its members, to maintain and strengthen in alumni the best spirit and ideals of the College, and to secure cooperation of alumni and the public in helping the College to render the most effective service possible."

Two meetings of the Association are held annually, one at the College during commencement and one during the annual session of the Baptist State Convention at the time and place the Convention meets. From time to time, special meetings may be called.

The executive arm of the Association is the Alumni Council. The Council is composed of 36 members selected to represent the geographical distribution of alumni, plus several other members who hold seats by virtue of their offices, such as the President of the College. The Council meets on call of the President of the Alumni Association and Director of Alumni Activities. It carries out such projects as the Association may approve and sponsor. It also formulates policies and conducts business of the Association in the interims between meetings of the Association.

Programs of the Association include the sponsorship of class reunions on Alumni Day during commencement, maintenance of local chapters of the Association in communities where alumni are heavily concentrated, and conduct of an annual giving campaign, called the Living Endowment, through which alumni are invited to contribute to the financial support of the College.

Members of the Association receive without charge The Wake Forest Magazine, which is published every other month. This magazine is designed to keep alumni abreast of life and developments on the campus and of the activities of fellow alumni. It also attempts to be a medium of continuing education for alumni by projecting the latest trends and thought in higher education. Contributions are invited from students, faculty members and alumni.

The ultimate strength of the College rests with its alumni. The opportunities of students on the campus today are wider and more meaningful because of continuing alumni support. Students therefore ought to acquaint themselves with the alumni program while they are still in school. The high station of alumnus is not to be taken lightly.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

On the second floor of Reynolda Hall is the heart of the student activities at Wake Forest—Pub (for publications) Row.. At one end of the hall are the student government offices; at the other, the campus radio station; and down the side are the offices of the three student publications, a yearbook, a newspaper, and a literary magazine. This hall provides the eyes, ears and voice of the Wake Forest student body. Its role in the life of the college is a significant one, for it is the breeding ground of student ideas and the headquarters for student work.

Student Government

Wake Forest students maintain a high degree of independence and sovereignty in regulating student behavior and solving student-related problems. The Student Legislature, the Student Honor Council, and the Men's Judicial Board are the three major agencies through which students work. Each spring, members of these three organizations are elected to fill office for the following school year. In addition to these three agencies, the Wake Forest coeds are organized within the Woman's Government Association.

Student Government is established and operates under the Constitution of the Student Body. The president of the student body is Jerry Partney; vice-president is Jim Rainey; the secretary is Neely Holmead; and the treasurer is Bill Joyner. Through membership on committees established by the Legislature and Honor Council in co-operation with the Administration, a large number of students are active in Student Government.

Student Legislature

The Student Legislature, the legislative arm of Student Government, is composed of 36 members. (See Constitution, Article V, section 1). The chief purpose of the Legislature is to make laws and state conditions of the student body while serving as a student service body.

The work of the Legislature is primarily executed through its committees, which are appointed by the president and approved by the Legislature. While technically the president of the student body is not a member of the legislature, his voice and programs are given thorough attention by the members. To assist the president, the executive cabinet consisting of the four student body officers and chairmen of standing committees works closely in developing a legislative program. In addition, individual members of the legislature promote their respective constituencies by initiating and supporting their own legislative proposals and programs.

Since the major portion of legislative work is carried on through the various committees, the committee members and especially the chairmen comprise the most important aspect of a successful legislative year. Legislature committees are under the general supervision of the speaker of the Legislature—the vice president of the student body.

The Legislature will publish “The Student Voice” from time to time listing suggestions made to the Student Facilities Committee, the results of these suggestions when referred to the appropriate College officials, and general legislative activity.

The Student Legislature meets every other Wednesday night in the Legislative Chambers in room 230, Reynolda Hall. Members of the student body are invited and are welcome to attend all Legislature meetings.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council, composed of eight men and eight women, is the judicial branch of the Student Government. Sitting as a court, the Council rules on the innocence or guilt of a person charged with violating the Honor System. If a student is found to be guilty, the Council determines his penalty. The respect and standing of this body are such that its decisions are final and are reviewed by the faculty only in extreme circumstances. The Chairman of the Honor Council this school year is Joe Sparks.

THE WOMEN’S GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The governing body of all undergraduate resident women of the College in matters of social regulations is the Women’s Government Association. The purposes of this organization as set forth in the preamble to its constitution are: “. . . to regulate all matters pertaining to the life of the women of Wake Forest College not under the jurisdiction of the Faculty; to increase a sense of individual responsibility; to further a spirit of unity among the women of the College; and to cooperate with the Faculty in creating and maintaining high ideals for women of this college.”

Joy Brumbaugh, as president, will lead the WGA in carrying out its purposes.

All women, including day students, are also subject to the Honor System of the Student Government.

Men's Judicial Board

The Men's Judicial Board, created by the Student Legislature and the faculty was established to strengthen the honor system at Wake Forest College and to give the students more privilege and responsibility in governing their own affairs. This board is composed of six male students and six faculty members who rule on conduct violations now listed in the Honor Code and in the faculty regulations. As the men's counterpart to the WGA the board will not rule on conduct cases within the jurisdiction of the Women's Government Association. The Judicial Board selected Tommy Baker, a student member, to preside as chairman.

Campus Politics

The traditional two-party system was revived last year at Wake Forest after a two-year period, beginning in 1962, during which the campus was divided between one party and a group of candidates running independently of party affiliation.

The Student Party had been the only campus political party. During the elections of last spring, the Better Politics on Campus (BPOC) party was formed. The slate of the new party included only rising sophomore and junior candidates, leaving the Student Party candidates for student body offices, with the exception of the presidential candidate, running unopposed. Several students ran independently.

Any student wishing to run for an office must file a petition, containing a required number of names, with the Student Body President ten days prior to the election. The parties meet separately in small-scale conventions and nominate their choices for the student body positions.

Posters, filling the campus, display the work of the candidates and their campaign managers several days before the elections. The candidates visit the rooms of the voters and hold receptions in the girls' dormitories. The parties and often the independent candidates issue platforms. Election day is the scene of a chapel program during which the candidates for the top offices address the student body. While voting is taking place in Reynolda Hall, anxious students await the returns on the terrace of the building.

Freshman class officers are elected in the middle of October. Any freshman wishing to run for the offices of president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, or legislator may do so by obtaining the signatures of eight of his classmates, in accordance with Statute V of the constitution.

PUBLICATIONS

The Wake Forest publications are governed by a Publications Board, the objects of which are to promote interest in journalism and college literary activities, and to build and raise the standards of the college publications. The membership of the Board consists of a Faculty Board, composed of faculty advisers, and a Student Board, composed of each publication staff's editor and business manager. All students are invited to participate.

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

To cover the campus like the magnolias is the objective of Old Gold and Black, the student newspaper. It provides the students with news of campus activities and items of community, state, and national scope which may affect the College. In addition, there are feature articles, editorials and columns, and advertising. As well as being the week-by-week communication with the student body, Old Gold and Black is also the principal means by which alumni and parents can keep in touch with campus life.

The newspaper, which is distributed each Sunday during the year, received its twenty-first and twenty-second All American awards last year. Co-editors of the newspaper are Carol Claxon and Sherry Pryor. Troy Stallard is the business manager.

THE STUDENT

The College literary magazine is The Student, an outlet for the creative ability of any Deacon. Included in the magazine are short stories, poems, art, book reviews, and news and photo features.

The magazine, which was founded in 1882, is the oldest College publication. It was suspended for two years but was reinstated in the spring of 1964. The Student is published five times throughout the school year. The content of each volume is manuscripts which are submitted by students and are accepted on the basis of individual merit.

James Woolley is the editor, and Dixon Whitworth is the business manager.

THE HOWLER

The Howler, the College yearbook, contains a thorough word-and-picture account of the year's activities and is, therefore, a treasured record of Wake Forest for the future. Sections on studies, groups, special highlights, individuals, the community, and the world combine to tell the complete story of college life.

The Howler has appeared every year since 1903. Last year, it received an All American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press.

Shela Turpin is the editor, and Bob Grubenmann is the business manager.

WFDD-FM

WFDD-FM, "the voice of Wake Forest College," broadcasts to the students and faculty as well as to the people of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County by means of FM (88.1 mc). Dormitory students who do not have FM receivers may pick up the College's programs at 650kc. on their regular AM radios.

WFDD-FM broadcasts every Monday through Friday from 5:00 p.m. until midnight, and its programs include music, news, sports, interviews, discussions, lectures, documentaries, and dramas.

The very finest in radio broadcast facilities are available, and students may participate as announcers, directors, producers, writers, actors, news and sports casters, and interviewers.

Debating

Wake Forest debaters, with a long-standing tradition of success, are among the College's most successful inter-collegiate competitors. The teams usually participate in forensic tournaments in such notable places as New York, Miami, Washington, West Point, and Notre Dame. In the Atlantic Coast Conference Debate Tournament the 1964-65 team won the overall conference championship trophy.

The college sponsors the Dixie Classic Debate Tournament each winter as teams of national prominence visit the campus. Novice debate teams are also organized and a novice tournament is held in the fall.

Oratory, extemporaneous, impromptu, and after-dinner speaking are stressed in addition to debate. Dr. Franklin R. Shirley is director of the debate squad.

The College Theatre

The College Theatre offers the students the finest in educational theatre opportunities. Students may participate as actors, directors, make-up artists, costumers, carpenters, electricians, choreographers, light and sound technicians, and as spectators.

The seventh level of the Library houses the theatre facilities: a proscenium stage, an arena stage, a box office, dressing rooms, and sound and light booths. The complete dramatic program includes four major productions, Reader's Theatre, and Laboratory Theatre. Activities culminate each year with the Annual Theatre Awards Banquet.

Active participants with high academic rang are invited to join the national theatre fraternity, National Collegiate Players. The most coveted honor of the College Theatre is the pin of the Purple Masque.

James H. Walton is director of the Theatre, which was begun in 1943.

Actors in the College Theater split their personality to fit any role.

Musical Activities

Musical talent will not go wanting at Wake Forest, for the variety of musical organizations provide an outlet for ability in individual and group work, professional and amateur, vocal and instrumental.

Instrumentally, the Marching Deacons, paced by the high-stepping majorettes, add to the spirit and atmosphere of Saturday football afternoons. The Concert Band presents concerts in Chapel and outdoors in the spring. The Department of Music also includes a stage band, composed of 15 to 20 members who prefer playing the "big band sound." The Little Symphony, made up of students and musicians from the Winston-Salem area, presents several concerts on campus and also performs in joint programs with the Winston-Salem Symphony. Calvin Huber is director of instrumental music.

The Chapel Choir performs sacred anthems during Chapel services throughout the year and presents an annual Christmas Vesper Service in cooperation with the Little Symphony. The Touring Choir travels throughout North Carolina and to other states to present programs of choral music, and joins with the Chapel Choir for a concert of special music at the Magnolia Festival in the spring. Dr. Thane McDonald directs the choirs.

Individual music students have an opportunity to perform at the end of the year at their Senior Recital.

Larry Robinson

College Union

A full-scale activities program at Wake Forest provides entertainment, relaxation, and stimulation throughout the year. The College Union, which greatly affects the social life on campus, was established after the move to the new campus as part of the College's continuing attempt to meet the needs of all the students.

The College Union catches the election spirit in the spring and a group of enthusiastic and qualified people are chosen by the students. Each year it sponsors informal lawn concerts, dances, lectures and symposiums, weekly on-campus movies, talent shows, parties at the Barn, and art exhibits. For recreation the CU holds weekly duplicate bridge games and maintains pool tables in Reynolda Hall.

Some of the award-winning movies that will be run next year are "Bridge On The River Kwai," "Mondo Cane," "Hatari," "Charade," "Seven Days in May," "La Dolce Vita," and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." These films are free of charge to all students holding an ID card.

A few of the highlights for the coming year are the following:

Homecoming — Chuck Jackson and Orchestra

Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs

Orientation — Little David and the Wanderers

Combo Party, October 8 — Monzas

Art Exhibit — Cross Section of Contemporary Art through the American Federation of Arts

All students, including incoming freshmen, may participate on CU committees. A fee of $3.00 will be collected from each student at fall registration to pay for the semester's College Union activities. Another $3.00 will be collected in the spring.

Officers of the College Union for this year are Larry Robinson, president; Mary June Merrill, vice-president; and Susie Memory, secretary.

The Artists Series

Each year the Artists Series brings a wide variety of the finest instrumentalists, vocalists, and miscellaneous performers from throughout the United States and the world to Wake Chapel. Under the able direction of Dr. Charles M. Allen of the biology department tickets are distributed to students during registration without cost. The money allotments for the program come from general fees and endowment funds.

This year's series will include the following:

- November 11 — Vladimir Ashkenazy, Russian pianist
- February 3 — The Romeros, four classical guitarists
- February 24 — The New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra
David Bar-Illan, piano soloist
- March 24 — Adele Addison, soprano
- April 21 — Yi-Kwei Sze, bass baritone

CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY

In addition to the Artists Series the College is the home of the Wake Forest Chamber Music Society, composed of students, faculty, and residents of Winston-Salem. Each year the Society presents four outstanding recitalists or chamber groups in the intimate atmosphere of the DeTamble Auditorium in the Humanities Building. Season memberships are available or tickets for each concert may be purchased at the door.

This year the society will present the following renowned artists:

- | | |

| The Lucktenberg Harpsichord-Violin Duo | October 5, 1965 |
| The Dorian Woodwind Quintet | November 16, 1965 |

| The Eastman Brass Quintet | April 12, 1965 |

Religious Activities

Since Wake Forest is a church-related college, the study and discussion of religion assumes added significance as a field of academic inquiry. Especially in extra-curricular activities does the Wake Forest student have the opportunity to consider various aspects of religious thought, ranging from the ideas of outstanding figures like Reinhold Niebuhr to those of Evangelist Billy Graham.

The purpose of the campus religious program is to provide students with opportunities for worship, study, and service. All students, regardless of their religious affiliation, are invited to participate in such organizations as the Baptist Student Union, the Episcopal Canterbury, the Wesley Foundation (Methodist), and the Westminster Fellowship (Presbyterian).

These denominational groups sponsor several programs for those students who wish to take an active part in the religious life of the college and nearby communities. Local mission projects in homes for the aged, in orphanages and in certain churches, and week-end youth retreats in North Carolina churches provide practical training for many students.

In addition to daily vesper services held in Davis Chapel, there are special worship programs at Christmas and Easter. All of the aforementioned groups engage in study and other inter-denominational projects, making use of the new inter-denominational center located in the library. The BSU also has a room in Wingate Hall where many of its activities take place.

Perhaps the major contribution is the annual pre-school retreat immediately prior to freshman orientation. The retreat serves as an orientation to college life and thought in addition to providing a stimulating period for discussion on various theological topics.

Bi-Weekly Chapel

Having a heritage dating back to the founding of the college in 1834, chapel at Wake Forest gives the students the chance to observe not only the religious atmosphere of the college but also the inter-relationship of all phases of campus life. Each week, guest speakers address the student body on subjects ranging from politics to outer space travel, from literature to the Peace Corps, and from professional sports to different religious beliefs. From time to time there are programs on student accomplishments and activities, including student body meetings, Wake Forest athletics, and programs by the different musical groups on campus.

Chapel serves another very important objective in the life and atmosphere of the College. Twice each week the student body comes together, thus generating a spirit of co-operation and common purpose—an intangible asset in maintaining a sense of closeness and friendship. Chapel at Wake Forest is an extension of academic inquiry experienced in the classroom and a focal point for collective student life.

The chapel programs are scheduled largely by the students themselves, acting through a student committee of the Student Legislature and co-operating with Dr. Hollingsworth.

Interesting speakers that Wake Forest has been privileged to have had in recent years are H. E. Mr. Alex Quaison-Sackey, President of the United Nations Assembly in New York; Mr. Justice Goldberg of the United States Supreme Court; The Most Reverend Vincent S. Waters, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of North Carolina; and Walter Judd, United States Congressman from Minnesota. Chapel meets each Tuesday and Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Wait Chapel.

Social Fraternities

When a male student enrolls at Wake Forest, one of the questions facing him is whether or not to join one of the ten Greek-letter social fraternities on campus. Each of these organizations starts the school year by making plans which will interest the new students in joining its ranks during second-semester deferred rush.

During the year fraternities have numerous dances and informal parties, and are active in such phases of campus life as intramural athletics and campus politics. Furthermore, fraternities urge their members to participate in extracurricular activities and to excel in scholastic work.

If a new student decides to pledge a social fraternity, he must make his choice from among the fraternities from whom he receives an invitation. When a person joins a fraternity, he is selecting an organization and a group of men with whom he wishes to be affiliated during his entire college career. It is a decision that should not be made hastily or without serious consideration.

The Interfraternity Council is the central governing body for all fraternities on campus. Its main purpose, in addition to regulating rushing, pledging, and initiation of students, is to sponsor social functions for the fraternity men and their guests. The annual IFC dances, usually featuring a big-name band, are the highlights of fraternity social life. The faculty committee for fraternities works in conjunction with the IFC to maintain high standards of conduct and scholarship among fraternity men.

Clark Dillon of Kappa Sigma is president of the IFC. The fraternities and their faculty advisers and presidents for 1965-66 are:

Alpha Sigma Phi	Mr. Leo Ellison	Dana Ingalls
Delta Sigma Phi	Dr. Richard C. Barnett	Kenneth Hauswald

Deferred Pledging

I. Purposes of deferred pledging:

- A. To insure freshmen the opportunity to make an acceptable academic average during their initial semester at Wake Forest College.
- B. To protect the fraternities and the fraternity system from the harmful effects of pledging academically unproven men.
- C. To provide the freshmen with an introduction to the fraternity system and the men comprising it with a minimum requirement of time and monetary expenditure for both parties involved.

II. Rules for deferred pledging:

- A. Pledging shall be deferred until the spring semester.
- B. During the fall semester, fraternity rush shall be limited as follows:
 - 1. During orientation of the fall semester, the IFC will present a program in chapel to inform all freshmen of the new system of rush and the stipulations applied to that system.
 - 2. During registration of the fall semester, any freshman who wishes to be included in the fall rush plans will pay a five dollar rush fee to the treasurer of the IFC.
 - 3. During the entire fall semester, no fraternity man (or any associate of a fraternity) may solicit for any fraternity in the freshmen dormitories. Also, regulations between freshmen and fraternity men (in non-dormitory areas) shall be reduced to casual greetings and other minimal relations made necessary by the normal functions of the academic life of the college.
 - 4. Section B-3 shall be waived only during events sponsored by the IFC.
 - 5. During the entire fall semester, no freshman may enter a fraternity section unless attending a function approved by the IFC. At no time during the weekdays, Monday through Thursday, may the freshmen be allowed in the fraternity sections.

 - a. A mixer for the freshman rushees in the cafeteria on the fourth weekend after classes begin.
 - b. On the first weekend after the last football game, the IFC will initiate its program of fraternity open houses. These open houses will occur on three successive weekends. The IFC will divide the fraternities into three groups (of 4,3,3) and the open houses will take place in accordance with the groupings of the fraternities.

- c. Midwinters weekend, restricted to fraternity members and associates (no freshmen will be allowed).
7. Only those freshmen that carry IFC rush identification cards will be considered eligible for the IFC-sponsored functions of the fall semester.
8. Any freshman who is approached by a representative of a fraternity must report such to the Dean of Men or a member of the IFC.
9. Any fraternity man who sees a rush violation must report such to the Dean of Men or a member of the IFC.
10. No summer rush parties will be allowed. This includes any function held from May 28, 1965 until the first day of orientation, September 14, 1965. The IFC agrees with the college on its stated definition of a party (at least three couples in a private place) and further adds to that definition that there shall be, at any social event (public or private where there are at least brothers or affiliates or pledges there), no contact with an incoming freshman at Wake Forest College.
11. Fraternity parties will be allowed during the summer as long as there are no incoming freshmen present.
12. Effective September 14, 1965 through February 1, 1966, no brother or affiliate or pledge of a social fraternity shall be permitted to grant special privileges to a freshman on this campus. The following shall be termed special privileges:
 - a. dining with a freshman on or off the campus.

1. For the first offense, the fraternity in error will be fined $50 by the IFC.
 2. For the second offense, the fraternity in error will be fined $75 by the IFC.
 3. For the third offense, the fraternity in error will be suspended, by the IFC from all IFC functions in that semester.
- D. Any penalty imposed upon a fraternity for violation of any section of #B may be appealed before the IFC if written notice of that appeal is registered with the IFC secretary no later than one week after the imposition of the penalty.
- E. Only those freshmen who compile a 2.0 academic average (or better) during the fall semester shall be eligible to pledge a fraternity. These names shall be officially listed by the Registrar and will be made available to all chapters prior to the beginning of rush. Any freshman with a 1.75 academic average who has paid his rush fee may be rushed spring semester.

III. Formal Rush:

- A. Formal fraternity rush shall begin at seven o'clock a.m. on February 2, 1966 (the first day for the spring semester). At this time the rules in force throughout the fall semester shall be raised and the following rules shall go into effect:
1. Formal fraternity rush shall last from February 2, 1966 to February 18, 1966.
 2. No freshman may be in the fraternity section after 7:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday nights. Authorized evening smokers shall be an exception to this rule.
 3. No fraternity man may be in the freshman dormitories between the hours of 9:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m., Monday through Thursday. No rushing between these hours will be permitted, and freshmen seen outside the dormitories during these hours will be extended a casual greeting only.
 4. During the formal rush period, the ten fraternities will be divided into two groups (A and B). Each fraternity in these two groups will be allowed two parties, one of which must be on campus. A fraternity may not spend more than $500 for the two parties combined and the smoker, and an itemized account of all expenses must be presented to the Interfraternity Council. For the two weekends of the formal rush period, the Interfraternity Council will designate which group (A or B) will have their parties (on or off the campus will be stipulated) on each night of the weekend. During the designated parties, a fraternity outside the group may not sponsor a party.

5. Silence period will begin at 12:00 midnight on February 17, 1966 and will extend until the freshman reaches the section of his choice on February 18, 1966, at 7:00 p.m. or until midnight on that date. During this period, no rushees are to visit any fraternity section or converse with any fraternity man.
 6. At 7:00 p.m., February 18, 1966 each freshman rushee shall indicate his choice of a fraternity to the Dean of Students and then shall go to the fraternity that he intends to pledge. One IFC representative from each fraternity section shall be stationed outside the Dean's office to enforce the silence period.
 7. Upper classmen and transfers with at least a sophomore standing (24 hours and a C average) may be pledged at any time. Summer School freshmen may not be pledged until February 18, 1966.
 8. No man may be pledged to a social fraternity and after relinquishing or being deprived of his pledgeship to the aforesaid fraternity, repledge the original fraternity or any other social fraternity during the same semester.
 9. Pledging shall be free and open after February 18, 1966.
- B. If any violation of the above rushing rules (section III, A-1 through A-5) occurs during the formal rush period, the same penalties as listed in II-C shall be in effect. Appeals may be made according to II-D.
- C. These rush rules, upon approval of the faculty, will go into effect in September of 1965 and last no longer than September of 1970, at which time they will be considered by the IFC and changes made if necessary. However, at any time the IFC reserves the right to recommend changes to the Student Affairs Committee and, upon that group's consent, effect said changes.

Societies

In order for a girl to establish close ties with a group of her friends there are five societies which a coed may join. These societies are the Fideles, Laurels, Les Soeurs, SOPH, and Strings and were recognized two years ago by the faculty for a trial period of three years.

Membership is open to any Wake Forest coed who wishes to join a society; however, she must have the standing of a second semester freshman and an overall C average to be able to participate in rush.

The governing body of the societies is the Inter-Society Council, composed of the presidents of each society and one representative of each class from each society. The officers of the ISC are elected by the council each year.

John Avery
President

Independent Council

The Independent Council is the hub of social and academic activities for non-fraternity students. The Council, which was organized in the fall of 1960, promotes intramural athletics and encourages academic excellence. It also offers students a more varied social life.

During the past year the Independent Council organized an intra-campus mail service. Students, clubs, and organizations, and faculty members may use this mail service to send messages, free of charge, anywhere on campus. Mail is delivered daily to dormitory rooms.

The council sponsors a candidate for Homecoming Queen and parties through the school year. The organization of men's dormitories is planned for this fall.

John Avery will be the president of the Independent Council for 1965-66.

Organizations

A large number of societies, groups and clubs cover the range of student interests and activities at Wake Forest. Membership in these organizations is through scholarship or a desire to intensify a particular scope of interest that the student may have.

Honorary societies are Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship society; Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership society; Tassels, women's leadership society; and honoraries in the following fields: pre-med, biology, chemistry, mathematics, German, Romance languages, history, Latin, speech, religious activities, physical education, military, theater, and debate.

Other organizations which a student may choose to be affiliated with are Circle K and Alpha Phi Omega service fraternities, Young Democrats and Republicans Clubs, business and teachers organizations, the English Club, the International Relations Club, the Orchesis Dance Club, the Monogram Club, Maritimers swimming club, and women's physical education and recreation clubs.

PEACE CORPS

Mark Reece, Dean of Men, is the Peace Corps' liaison representative on the campus. Any student who is interested in this organization can secure descriptive literature and information from Dean Reece in 203 Reynolda Hall.

The ROTC PROGRAM

A senior unit of the United States Army Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at Wake Forest College in 1951. The general objective of the program is to produce officers who possess the leadership and scholastic attributes to progressive and continual development as Reserve Officers in the Army of the United States.

The ROTC program is divided into a Basic Course (freshmen and sophomores) and an Advanced Course (juniors and seniors). Several scholarships are available to Advanced students and tuition, books, laboratory fees as well as fifty dollars per month subsistence allotment are included.

A student enrolled in ROTC who meets prescribed requirements may receive deferment from selective service. Uniforms, military textbooks and equipment are provided students by the United States Government. Students selected for the Advancement Course receive forty dollars per month and for the two years plus summer camp receive a total of about twelve hundred dollars.

After successful completion of the four-year ROTC program, and the receipt of a baccalaureate degree, students are commissioned second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve. If selected as a Distinguished Military Graduate, a student may be appointed a second lieutenant in the Regular Army.

NAVY ROTC PROGRAM

The United States Navy offers a Reserve Officer Candidate (ROTC) program whereby a Wake Forest student may complete his military requirements for commission as Ensign in the United States Navy Reserve by attending weekly drills at the Winston-Salem Naval Reserve Training Center, 930 Brookstown Avenue, and by attending the ROTC schools during the summers following his sophomore and junior years. A commission is granted on graduation from Wake Forest College. Further information is available through the Commanding Officer of the Training Center or Dr. Carlton Mitchell of the Wake Forest faculty.

THE SPORTS PROGRAM

The College provides extensive athletic and recreational facilities and a faculty of trained supervisors to direct activities in these fields.

In order to provide for a recreational program for all students, the College maintains athletic fields, tennis courts, and a combination athletic, physical education and recreation building which includes a swimming pool, handball and squash courts, rhythm studio, arts and crafts room, recreational area, corrective rooms, a gymnastic and wrestling room, and a women's gym, a varsity basketball gym and two men's intramural gyms.

Intramural Sports

The department of physical education provides a varied intramural sports program that appeals to the interests of several hundred Wake Forest students every year.

Intramural sports include touch football, basketball, wrestling, golf and tennis (both fall and spring), volleyball, handball, table tennis, badminton, horseshoes and softball.

Competition in team sports is on the basis of fraternity and non-fraternity, or independent, teams. Any individual or group of individuals may organize teams and enter competition in any sport. Individual sports are run on a single-elimination basis, and anyone is eligible to enter. Trophies are awarded to individual and team winners in every sport.

The intramural program is under the direction of Dr. Taylor Dodson of the department of physical education. An intramural student manager assists in the program. He and assistant managers are appointed by the physical education staff and handle the details necessary for operation of the program.

Women's Athletics

The women's division of the department of physical education offers each woman an opportunity, through participation in team and individual sports, rhythms, aquatics and tumbling, to acquire skill and knowledge in all phases of physical activities.

Two semesters of physical education are required of all freshmen women. Grades are based primarily on achievement in the activity.

The Woman's Recreation Association sponsors extracurricular athletics and recreation for women. Individual awards and trophies are based on points which coeds may accumulate by participating in various activities and tournaments.

The Physical Education Majors' Club is composed of all women who are majoring in physical education and those who are interested in it as a profession.

Intercollegiate Sports

In intercollegiate sports the College is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, one of the finest athletic circuits in the nation. Wake Forest teams are better known to the spectators as the Demon Deacons.

The year-round varsity sports schedule includes football, basketball, baseball, track, swimming, cross country, tennis, and golf. Freshman teams have a full schedule in all the intercollegiate sports.

Other schools that are members of the ACC are Duke, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C. State, Clemson, and the Universities of South Carolina, Virginia, and Maryland.

Deacon teams have brought considerable recognition to the College. The 1964 football team tied for 3rd place with a 4-3 record. In basketball the team came in 5th place with a 6-8 record. With 7 wins and 7 losses the baseball team ranked in a tied 3rd position, while the golfers led their team to a spot in second place.

Deacon footballers are playing home games at the Bowman Gray Stadium in Winston-Salem, but plans call for a new stadium near the campus to be constructed in a few years. Home baseball games are played at the Ernie Shore field and the basketball games are played in the Winston-Salem Coliseum near the campus.

REGULATIONS

The Bulletin

Information pertaining to charges, estimated expenses, financial arrangements, requirements for degrees, courses in liberal arts, the summer term and listing of all professors and administrative staffs may be found in the Bulletin of Wake Forest College. The Bulletin also contains more detailed coverage of much of the material in this handbook.

Absence Regulations

A student is responsible for all the work of all class and laboratory meetings of any course in which he is enrolled. Work missed because of absence may be made up only at the discretion of the instructor.

Absences are reported at the end of the semester by the instructor to the Office of the Dean of the College. The instructor also reports during the semester to the Office of the Dean of the College students who have already missed three consecutive class meetings, 25 per cent of the class meetings, or more classes than the instructor deems advisable. Absences are reported from the first meeting of the class, those who register late to be reported as absent from any previous class meetings which they have missed.

When any student has been absent regardless of reason in any course as many as 25 per cent of the total class periods in that course, he shall lose all credit for the course and shall be assigned a grade of F, except that if all his absences are considered by the Dean to be excused or otherwise permissible, he may be assigned a grade of WP or WF as appropriate.

Any student who demonstrates irresponsibilities with regard to class attendance is subject to such disciplinary action as the Executive Committee may prescribe, including immediate suspension from college.

A student who is on academic or conduct probation is not allowed any absences from class until notified otherwise by the Office of the Dean of Students.

For students not on probation, absence from any class at the last meeting before or the first meeting after any holiday recess shall count for freshmen two absences and for upperclassmen three absences in a class which meets twice a week and four absences in all other courses. If such absence is excused, it shall count as one absence.

Any student who has been absent from an announced quiz may, if he follows proper procedure, secure from the Office of the Dean of the College by the next meeting of the class a statement showing the reason for the absence and a statement of whether the Office considers it an excusable reason for missing the quiz. This is for information only and does not give the student any right to make up the quiz.

Freshmen who are not on probation are allowed in each course no greater number of absences than the number of meetings in a normal week.

These absences include those for participation in extracurricular activities; for such emergencies as illness in the immediate family, automobile accidents, or appearance in court; and for personal convenience. Absences in excess of this number will result in the student's being subject to probation or to suspension from the college, except that (1) additional absences because of personal illness may be allowed if the absence is excused by the Student Health Service at the time of the illness or, if the illness occurs off campus, within 24 hours after the student returns to campus, and (2) additional absences may be allowed as an official representative of the college if approved in advance by the office of the Dean of the College.

General Social Regulations

Definition

A party is defined as any event wholly or partially social which is sponsored by a Wake Forest student organization or a group of students and at which both men and women will be present.

Registration and Approval

All parties must be registered and approved in the Office of the Dean of Women on forms supplied by that office. Parties to be held on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday must be approved by 12:00 noon on Thursday. Formal or semi-formal dances for which late permission is requested must be approved a week before the event. Other parties must be approved at least three days prior to the party.

Parties at such a distance from the campus as to necessitate overnight absence from the campus will not be approved, but must nevertheless be registered in the Office of the Dean of Women two weeks before the event. Wake Forest women attending such parties must have parental consent on forms mailed from the Dean of Women directly to the parent.

Chaperons

All parties shall require chaperons, who must be members of the faculty or the administrative staff of Wake Forest College. For any on-campus party, one chaperon is required. For any off-campus party, a married couple is required.

Place of Party

All parties must be held at places approved by the Student Affairs Committee and must be confined within whatever further limitations may be designated by the Dean of Women, in whose office a list of approved places is available.

Time of Party

Informal parties on Friday or Saturday night must end no later than 11:30 P.M. Formal and semi-formal dances may, with the permission of the Dean of Women, continue until 1:00 A.M. on Friday night and 12:00 midnight on Saturday night. All parties must end at the specified hours whether or not coeds are present.

Conduct

All persons attending a party are expected to abide by all college rules and regulations and to conduct themselves in such a way as not to bring unfavorable attention to themselves or to the college. In addition, there shall be no consumption of any intoxicating beverages at any party, nor shall anyone under the influence of alcohol be present.

Responsibility

Both the organization and its officers or the group and its members sponsoring the party shall be responsible for the conduct of all persons at the party. Any violation of the rules or other misconduct, whether by students or others, subjects the individuals committing the offense, the group organization sponsoring the party, and the officers or other hosts individually to possible penalty.

Student Marriages

A woman student who plans to continue her enrollment in college after marriage must have her parent or guardian notify the Dean of Women before the marriage takes place. If, however, a woman student is married in the summer when she is not in school, it is not necessary to contact the Dean.

A male student who plans to continue his enrollment in college after marriage to a Wake Forest student must notify the Dean of Men before the marriage takes place.

Any student who is married without the proper notice as indicated above is required to withdraw from college immediately. Failure to withdraw will result in suspension. Subsequent readmission is at the discretion of the Executive Committee.

No woman student may continue living in the dormitory after her marriage.

Automobile Regulations

A $2.00 fee will be charged for the sticker at the time of registration.

Stickers are effective for the school year – September through Summer School sessions.

Students will be required to show the state vehicle registration and their State operator's license at the time of registration.

During his first two semesters in college a freshman male student living in a dormitory is not allowed to have an automobile. After the freshman year, a male student may have the use of an automobile during any semester at the beginning of which he has an over-all "C" average.

No woman student except a junior or a senior with a cumulative "C" average, as determined on a semester basis, and otherwise in good standing is allowed to have an automobile, and she must make appropriate arrangements for it with the Dean of Women.

During the Summer session any student enrolled, regardless of classification, may have an automobile so long as he complies with registration, traffic, and parking regulations.

A student automatically loses the privilege of having an automobile at any time that he is placed on social or conduct probation.

A student prevented by College regulations from having an automobile is not allowed to maintain or operate a motor vehicle in Forsyth County or vicinity. Storing or otherwise keeping a motor vehicle in other places in this area for occasional use is also in violation of this regulation. Otherwise aiding or abetting in the violation of this regulation is a violation of the regulation.

In the Fall a first semester freshman or an ineligible upperclassman who arrives on the campus with an automobile must have it returned to his home before 6:00 a.m. on the day preceding the first day of classes for that semester. Any student who loses his eligibility to have an automobile because of his fall semester grades is required to report to the Traffic office and turn in his sticker during the spring semester registration period. At that time he will be informed of the procedure for disposition of his vehicle.

Students who violate any of these regulations will be placed on conduct probation by the Office of the Dean of Students and will be subject to suspension from the College or such other penalty as the Men's Judicial Board or Women's Government Association may prescribe. Exceptions to these regulations may be made only by written permission from the Office of the Dean of Students.

Anyone with unexcused parking violations exceeding the number of five (5) per semester shall be prohibited from having a car on campus. If the violations exceed the number of five, the student is required to remove his car from the campus for the remainder of the semester. Thereafter, if he is found to have parked a car on campus, the student shall be referred to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women for possible action by the Men's Judicial Board or the Women's Government Association.

Fellow Students:

Our student government at Wake Forest is an extremely active organization and I would like to take this opportunity to tell you something about it.

Student government exists for the students of Wake Forest. In essence it is a student lobbying group; it is the organization through which students can work for those things that they desire. In performing this lobbying function the student government seeks always to represent the desires and interests of the entire student body.

The activities and responsibilities of the student government are indeed varied and extend into virtually every aspect of student life. Two years ago the Men's Judicial Board composed of both students and faculty members was established and charged with the duty of trying cases of men's conduct violations. This was previously a duty of the faculty Executive Committee. Through similar arrangements students may appeal traffic tickets and dormitory damages to committees composed of students and faculty whereas in years past this was solely a faculty responsibility. The student government has been responsible for having telephones installed first in the upper class men's dormitories, last year in the freshman men's dormitories and next year in all women's dormitories. Last year the Coffee House was opened by the student government in answer to a long felt student desire for a quiet eating place in the evenings. A calendar of major campus events is published monthly to keep students informed of the many different activities that are taking place at Wake Forest. Improved playing surfaces, water fountains and night lights have all been student government inspired additions to the tennis courts. The Leadership Training Program is held every fall to acquaint freshmen with the operation of the student government. This program gives interested freshmen a fine opportunity to study the inter-workings of student government. It also provides an opportunity to get involved in student government work. These are just a few of the specific things with which the student government is concerned.

In addition to these activities the student government, through its various committees, also hears student complaints, carries on chapel programs, makes investigations, promotes school spirit, sponsors intercollegiate conference activities, promotes better relations in the community, meets regularly with the administration, carries out orientation and the printing of the handbook and makes rules governing students and student organizations. Thus you can see that student government affects you. In fact, student government is YOU! A place has been reserved for you and I hope that you will take advantage of it.

Jerry Partney
President of the Student Body
